Many members like the ease of recurring payments – automatic withdraw of funds to pay for premiums. After you sign up, payments are automatically transferred from your bank account on or about the 1st of the month. Plus, you no longer receive mailed invoices from us.

How to Enroll

There are three ways to sign up for automatic payments:

- Enroll online it's the quickest way to set up automatic payments. Log in to your online account at mybenefits.wageworks.com. Then select Automatic Payments from the sidebar menu. If you choose this option, you don't need to complete the form included with this letter.

Important Setup Details

Be aware it takes time for WageWorks to process your request. Then it takes more time for your banking institution to do the same. Please allow up to 45 days for your automatic payments to be put into place. We are required to send a pre-authorization to your bank to verify your account information. You may see a transaction from us for a nominal amount, which is part of this testing process.

While we process your request, you must ensure your premiums are paid in a timely manner. To ensure continuous coverage, you should submit payment for at least one month of coverage when submitting your completed form. If you prefer, you may make a payment through your online account or by phone at 888-678-4881. You may log in to your online account to review the status of your ACH debit request at any time.

The first withdrawal from your account will include all premiums due, up to and including the current month of coverage. If all premiums due have been paid by other means, WageWorks will not deduct funds from your bank account until the following month.
